Urge Support of War Fund Drive

Local Audience Told Of Goal In Greater Boston Campaign - Red Cross And USO Will Benefit With Community Chest Agencies

Several hundred Arlington citizens who are organizing with enthusiasm for the United War Fund Campaign which opens on January 22, attended a patriotic rally in the auditorium of the senior high school Monday evening to prepare for the challenge of 1942—the generous and unstinted support of Arlington for the benefit of the Community Fund social agencies, the Red Cross and the United Service Organizations which will benefit by the United War Fund.

Introduced by Arthur W. Sampson, general chairman of the campaign in Arlington, Harold A. Cahalin, president of the Arlington Community Chest, told the workers that he was inspired by the demonstration of the sincerity of purpose among community leaders working in the interests of the fund and predicted that Arlington would contribute its full quota.

Maynard Hutchinson, general chairman of the Greater Boston United War Fund, was the guest of honor and principal speaker. He emphasized the great need for funds this year as the country prepares to defend the freedom of democracy in the most ruthless war in history. Speaking of the work of the United Service Organizations, he stressed the obligation of every citizen to do everything humanly possible to provide centers of recreation for our men in the service. Through these centers, he added, many of the human problems that trouble men far from home are solved through the advice and assistance of leaders trained in this work.

Citing the suffering caused by temporary dislocations in employment due to changes in industry from peaceful pursuits to war production, he described the needs of destitute families and the constructive service of the social agencies which are members of the United War Fund.

Arlington's new tire rationing board received a surprise when only one application for new tires was presented during the first week of the year despite the fact that Arlington is allowed 28 passenger tires and 36 heavy truck tires, as well as 24 passenger car tubes and 30 truck tubes for the month of January, one fourth of which can be allotted during any one week.

The applicant was Philip A. McDonald, of 22 Lakehill avenue, who asked for permission to buy three passenger car tires and three tubes, according to Paul Ziegler, administrative secretary to the board. The application for the tires was granted but that for the tubes was turned down as the condition of the tubes did not require immediate replacement in the opinion of the official inspector, McDonald's classification is C-5, transportation of U. S. mail.

If the full 25 percent of Arlington's quota is not used up by the end of the first week, the balance carries over to the following week, and in like manner for each week in the month. However, any unallotted balance remaining at the end of the month will automatically be cancelled and cannot carry over from month to month, according to the tire rationing board. Therefore, those who need new tires and tubes, are urged to act before the end of January.

The board has changed its regular meeting to Monday and Wednesday at 8 p. m. at police headquarters at which time it will consider applications for new tires and tubes.

Residents will be notified in the NEWS the exact dates on which this questioning work will be undertaken.

ADVERTISING'S ROLE IN THE WAR

The influence of newspaper advertising in peace time has been recognized long ago. That it can play an important part in helping the United States win the war and maintain the peace which will follow was the opinion expressed this week by Elton Borton, chairman of the board of the Advertising Federation of America.

Mr. Borton emphasized that it is the responsibility of advertising executives and business men in general to inform the public through advertising how to make scarce articles last longer, how to buy better, how to use merchandise made of materials not essential for defense needs. It is the further duty of advertising executives to help the people understand and adjust themselves to war merchandising conditions.

Asserting that advertising is vital to national economy and morale, this well-known authority points out that the British government has been the biggest advertiser in English newspapers since the start of the war.

Newspaper advertising in this country has already made possible mass distribution resulting in mass production on which chief reliance is placed today for winning the war.

Because modern warfare is very costly, it follows that commercial or industrial life must go on as far as is consistent with our war effort in order to create wealth with which to pay taxes and buy defense bonds — all of which will defray the cost of winning this war. It is true, too, that our people must live while fighting the war. They will require food, clothing and shelter and other necessities of life. In the words of Mr. Borton, "There must be stores to stock and sell goods. Business must go on—not as usual, but efficiently. And business must have advertising to inform the people about goods and prices."

Newspapers, generally, are well-equipped and ready to accept this responsibility.

YOUR HELP IS NEEDED

"You may not be able to shoulder a gun or work in a war industry, but you can do your share to win the war as a worker in the Arlington campaign of the Greater Boston United War Fund which opens on January 22."

In these words Roscoe A. Elliot, Arlington's Associate chairman for residential solicitations, appeals to patriotic citizens, both men and women, to offer their services for the campaign at once. Workers are urgently needed!

Headquarters of the campaign have been opened at 675-677 Massachusetts Avenue, where offers of services in the campaign will be greatly appreciated. Mr. Elliot, whose home is at 33 Edgehill road, also will be glad to give full information on the need for workers.

Chamber Of Commerce

Mr. Boardman, whose address was one of the most interesting ever presented to the Chamber of Commerce, emphasized that his predictions were based on his own personal views and that he was not speaking in his official capacity as an officer of the Federal Reserve Bank.

He foresaw some kind of payroll withdrawal whereby everyone will contribute defense savings. He said the public had been unwilling to awaken to conditions during the past year, but that we were due for a jolt during 1942. He also expressed the opinion that greater centralization of government than we have ever seen will be in order even after the war ends. However, he expressed little concern about this. A national debt of one hundred billion dollars by the end of 1943 is almost inevitable, the speaker said. Despite the critical times ahead during which readjustments will have to be made because of the war effort, the speaker expressed faith that this country with its 130 million people, its riches, natural resources and productive ability will somehow survive.

President Earl A. Ryder welcomed the service club members present and expressed his appreciation to the Arlington Gas Light company for offering the use of its auditorium for this large meeting.

Peter A. McClosky spoke briefly on the importance of unity for community welfare and co-operation.

Special tribute was paid to the late William H. Bell who passed away last week.

IN CHARGE OF Traffic!

USE THE PROGRESSIVE MERCHANTS' GUIDE TO MORE SALES VOLUME — The Arlington News

THE PROBLEM of getting sufficient customer traffic into a store is recognized by every merchant. With few exceptions, the life and success of a business is in direct proportion to the number of possible buyers that daily pass through the doors. Similarly, every established merchant realizes that the customer who enters his place of business is in search of certain quality at a certain price. The successful, business man stocks the items in the quantities and qualities desired by his customers.

But after a merchant stocks the right merchandise and recognizes the need for customer traffic, what shall he do then?

He can follow the lead of successful merchants still further! He can advertise! He can tell 11,000 families living in Arlington about his business and his merchandise. He can make them special attractive offers to increase his store traffic.

How can he reach those necessary 11,000 families for the least amount of money and with the greatest amount of certainty?

He can advertise in the Arlington NEWS, the newspaper that is read and accepted by over 11,000 Arlington families every week!

CONSISTENT ADVERTISING IN THE ARLINGTON NEWS BRINGS RESULTS!

Case histories of ads run by consistent advertisers show an even greater degree of success than those run by occasional advertisers. Regular NEWS advertisers build up an acceptance in the minds of readers. Their ads have an identifying continuity that potential customers look for. If you are in business and are not now an advertiser in the Arlington NEWS, we urge you to investigate the NEWS possibilities.

Local news stories in the NEWS guarantee readers interest.

People you may know

MONA LOGG holds the New England record for conversational endurance. She's modest about it, though. Says her husband can beat her when he talks fishing or golf—just give him a chance. Between them they really do a job on the telephone.

We telephone people deserve some of the credit, no doubt—the way we've sold people on telephoning, all these years. But now success proves a boomerang... the War program needs so much telephone service that champion talkers are a problem. You see, switchboards can handle only so many conversations at a time—and materials for building switchboards are on the priorities list!

If anyone had told us, a year ago, that we'd ever reach the point of suggesting that people cut down—No, we can't say it, even now! (Or have we?)

Zonta Club Notes

At the regular meeting of the Zonta club last Thursday at the Winchester country club, a representative of the United War Fund spoke about the coming campaign. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth P. Clark were dinner guests and Mr. Clark gave an interesting talk on the work of the Social Service league of which he is executive secretary.

This evening, the club will take a "Come-and-See Tour" to the Roxbury Neighborhood House. On January 22, at the regular meeting, Percy Brigham will show his pictures "Our Country's Beauty Spots."

UNITED WAR FUND NOTES

Members of the Educational Committee of the Greater Boston United War Fund have arranged several activities.

Mrs. Roscoe R. Perry reports that the Zonta Club will go on a "Come-and-See-Tour" to the Roxbury Neighborhood House this evening.

The Searchlight Club will have luncheon at the North Bennett St. Industrial School on January 20. The students prepare and serve the luncheon. Free bus transportation for these trips is provided. Any person desiring to arrange a "tour" may consult Mrs. Perry.

Mrs. Carroll Beers has arranged for the Lions Club to have a speaker at its meeting Monday and the Odd Fellows will have a showing of the film on Tuesday.

Mrs. Kingsbury Ryan reports additional dates as follows: G.A.R. Woman's Relief Corps had a speaker at their meeting on Jan. 8, at the home of Mrs. Minnie Barry, 293 Broadway.

The Florence Crittenton League will have a speaker at the home of Mrs. William Elwell, on Jan. 21.

Looking Inside

(Ed's Note: The comments in this column are not to be considered as the editorial opinions of the NEWS.)

EXTRA—$110,000 SALARY BOOST!

At a meeting, last Monday, of the elected officials representing all departments of the Town it was proposed by an official and acquiesced by all of the others, with one or two exceptions, that a bonus fund should be appropriated at next Town Meeting of this amount to pay to each and every employee an extra 10 percent in addition to his regular salary. That means that the clerk in an office getting $18 would get an additional bonus of $1.80 a week and also a Superintendent getting $6000 a year would get an extra $600.

Who pays? You do in your rent bill and tax bill as this sum represents about $200 a thousand on the Tax Rate.

P. S. This year the Community Chest drive which will start this month in addition to the usual Welfare and service organizations has added to it our share of the 50 million dollar Red Cross Fund and the 1942 U. S. O. Let's double our contribution.

War Fund Drive

bers of the United War Fund. In conclusion, he called upon Arlington, as well as all other communities in Greater Boston, to give generously in the forthcoming campaign to meet our obligations to 215 worthy agencies of the Greater Boston Community Fund, the U. S. O. and the R. C. Cross.

He concluded, "We must have a community where the strong help the weak. We have been too conservative in setting our goal. We have something to do for the nation as well as for our own community. With the eyes of the nation upon Greater Boston let us show the quality of our patriotism. It is not the size of our gifts that counts, but the size in relation to what we are able to give."

Mr. Hutchinson stated that Arlington is most fortunate in the type of leaders it has for its Community Chest. He praised Mrs. William A. Muller as a great leader and cited the backing which town officials is giving the Community Fund. He said he was impressed by the work already done by Arthur W. Sampson and his associates in organizing this year's campaign.

FOR MEN IN SERVICE
Charles C. Cabot, chairman of the metropolitan division of the United War Fund, suggested it as a service of tremendous significance for those who are anxious to help win the war for America. "Many of us," he said, "cannot for one reason or another fight in our army or navy. Many of us have no way of contributing to War-time production in industry, but every one of us can help with this war on the home front, as well as in the front lines, by supporting this great humanitarian effort for those in need."

Taking advantage of the lessons learned in the first world war, Mr. Cabot explained that six great agencies interested in the welfare of men in the service have joined under the United Service Organizations, which not only assures efficient but economical application of funds for the comfort and happiness of our soldiers and sailors. The army and the navy are building the recreation centers and the United Service Organizations will operate them.

Both Mr. Hutchinson and Mr. Cabot stressed the importance of the work of the Red Cross, now a member of the United War Fund, in peace and in war. They sighted numerous examples of assistance to soldiers and to families in poverty and illness.

Speaking as a member of the board of directors of the United War Fund and its executive committee, Monsignor Robert P. Barry, head of the Charitable Catholic Bureau, warned the citizens that in time of war business cannot go on as usual. "We must learn," he said, "to adjust ourselves to this great emergency and not make the mistake of trying to adjust the emergency to our lives. Everyone, regardless of race or creed, must work for the welfare of all in need, especially children." America is one of the few places left in the world where the citizens can have a Community Fund and he urged everyone, at the cost of some sacrifice, to contribute to the best of his means.

"War is the only answer to the challenge made at Pearl Harbor and an all-out effort is required to meet it," he said.

The program of the rally included music by the American Legion Band of Post 39, under the direction of Anthony Cannata. The Arlington workers for the campaign also had an opportunity to see the new United War Fund motion picture illustrating every aspect of the work carried on by its member agencies. The flag was escorted to the platform by a color guard composed of members of Post 39 of the American Legion and the Red Cross flag was escorted by women of the Arlington Chapter.

Miriam Kenicich Cahalin presented an amusing characterization of a mythical wife explaining to her husband with great enthusiasm the importance of working for the United War Fund. In the subtle humor of her monologue, Mrs. Cahalin injected suggestions for her audience.

Prominent Guests

Among the distinguished guests on the platform were Harold A. Cahalin; Joseph Peterson, commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars; John L. Delay, state vice-commander of the American Legion; Victor W. Ellis, commander of Arlington Post 39 of the American Legion; Daniel B. Tierney, chief of the fire department; John A. Bishop, vice-president of the Arlington Community Chest; Walter L. Chamberlain, chairman of the civilian defense committee; Mrs. Carolyn B. Reed, chairman of the Arlington Red Cross, who is now associated with Mr. Sampson as general vice-chairman; Mrs. William A. Muller, honorary general chairman; the Rev. Matthew J. Flaherty, pastor of St. Agnes Church; and William C. Adams, chairman of the board of selection.
